HEALTH-ADE

Health-Ade was founded in 2012 by Daina Trout, her husband Justin Trout, and best friend Vanessa Dew in a true farmer's market start-up story. Health-Ade soon became the fastest selling kombucha in America.

Health-Ade Kombucha is brewed in Los Angeles and they're proud to continue to make delicious, organic kombucha to help you follow your gut and become your happiest, healthiest self!

Kombucha is a fermented tea that contains living probiotics and organic acids to support your gut health. Health-Ade's bubbly tea is blended with real organic fruit juice for a delicious and refreshing taste. A little tart and a little sweet, with just the right amount of bubbles, kombucha is a delicious treat! At Health-Ade they use a blend of green and black tea and flavor it with real organic fruit juice for that extra fresh taste. Like all fermented foods, Kombucha contains probiotics and organic acids which are both known to support a healthy gut.
