SF-MARIN FOOD BANK

The SF Marin Food Bank's mission is to end hunger in San Francisco and Marin. They envision a community where everyone is able to obtain enough nutritious food to support the health and well-being of themselves and their families. Since 1987, they've pioneered many successful models aimed at ending hunger and moving truckloads of fresh, healthy food into our community. They continue to innovate and introduce new ways to support neighbors facing hunger.

Through their services, their efforts focus on the immediate distribution of food while simultaneously working on long-term strategies to address hunger and empower neighbors in need.

Before the pandemic, one in five neighbors was at risk of hunger. Now, the economic crisis has pushed many more to make difficult choices between housing, healthcare, and food. Each week, through their network of neighborhood pantries, emergency pop-ups, home-delivered groceries, and other programs, they are serving 55,000 households a week – almost twice as many as they were serving pre-pandemic.

Their work is beyond food distribution, which is why they also advocate at the local, state, and national levels for policy reform and program improvements to assist people at risk of hunger. It takes a community!

Let's end hunger together! Your dollar goes far when you support the Food Bank. For every $1 donated the SF Marin Food Bank can provide 2 healthy meals!
