Rotary Club of San Rafael Harbor
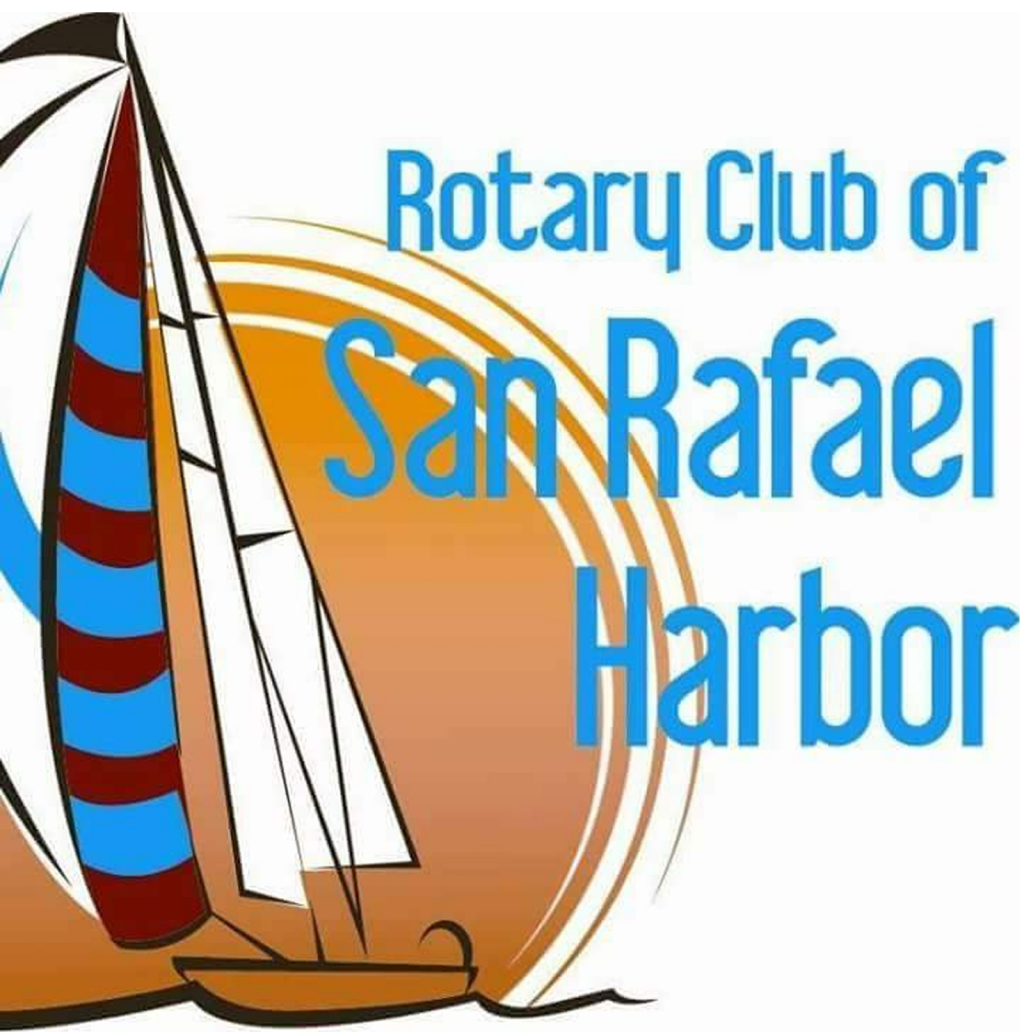

The Rotary Club of San Rafael Harbor, based in Marin County, is a hub of community engagement and service. As part of the Rotary International network, this club embodies the motto "Service Above Self," prioritizing efforts that benefit both local and international communities.

The Rotary Club of San Rafael Harbor has been making a meaningful impact since its founding on April 26, 2002. Since 2010, their international service efforts have included building computer labs in Lebanese public high schools, providing microloans in Ecuador, and training Rotarians in Central America and Mexico to fit prosthetic hands.

Locally, their work focuses on the Canal District of San Rafael, a predominantly Hispanic community facing challenges in education, nutrition, and employment.

They actively support the Albert J. Boro Community Center at Pickleweed Park, as well as Bahia Vista and Laurel Dell Elementary Schools, Davidson Middle School, and San Rafael High School, where they sponsor a thriving Interact Club with 25+ members.

Leadership skills are integral to the club's activities, providing members with opportunities to enhance their abilities while making a difference. The Rotary Club of San Rafael Harbor focuses on fostering these skills among its members, empowering them to take on significant roles within community service projects. This dedication to leadership development ensures that their initiatives are both impactful and sustainable. Their efforts are a testament to the power of collective action and community-driven solutions.

Join them for a Tuesday breakfast meeting and see how you, too, can make a difference!
