Friends of China Camp welcomes everyone to China Camp State Park to enjoy the park's stunning natural beauty and rich cultural history. They are committed to operating a park that serves visitors, who represent many different cultures, backgrounds, and abilities, in a safe and friendly environment.

China Camp State Park is a 1,514-acre park nestled along the shoreline of San Pablo Bay in San Rafael, California. The park boasts panoramic views, lush oak woodlands, and over 100 acres of protected tidal salt marsh. Whether you're a hiker or mountain biker, a history buff or a beach-loving water baby, you'll have an unforgettable day at China Camp.

The threatened closure of China Camp State Park in 2012 by the California Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR), significantly broadened the focus and mission of Friends of China Camp. Tasks went from not just supporting DPR in educational and interpretive activities at the park but also saving the park from closure. Friends of China Camp now handles all operations and management and is committed to keeping China Camp State Park open and thriving for the community.

Heritage Day Festival!
Saturday, August 23

Watch the historic China Camp Village come alive with thunderous drumming, shimmering costumes, and the wide smiles of Chinese lions. Snack on steam buns, play mahjong, enjoy performances of traditional music, and hear childhood anecdotes from original residents of China Camp. Kids activities include building toy boats and making dragon kites—perfect for the breezy shoreline.
